

There is too much violence for no reason at all. Random violence is unnecessary. But violence like the such in Saving private Ryan is THE TRUTH. I understand that it hurts but it is the truth. It is the truth that people were harmed and violent and shot and killed people in WW1 and WW2 and all other wars, what is wrong is not showing it because it is "too graphic" that is horribly WRONG. That is hiding what really happened. That would be like hiding the concentration camps from the American Jewish public, or hiding our shameful history of enslavement of Africans from our African American citizens. Maybe they do swear a lot in said movie but that is also the truth, when you are being shot at or get shot you don't go crying to your Mommy wanting a bandaid for your booboo. You want to kill that son-of-a-bitch while getting morphine from the medic. And you are not quiet about it. As soon as you experience bullets whizzing over your head can I say that you understand why you don't so "O no they are firing bullets at us maybe I should shoot back" and then when you get shot "o no i have been shot i think i will ask for the medic to come heal my wound so I can return to my glorious defeat of Germany (all the while more people are dying) no medic stay here I must live so that I can defend my country forget about those other dying people save me!" That is not what you will say and I don't think i need to tell you what you will say. Thank you!
